BOY KILLED IN QUARRY CAVE-IN

While engaged at work for the county on road work on the Georgetown pike, near Centerville, Wednesday, Ruby Cooper, aged seventeen, sustained internal injuries which resulted in his death later at the Massie Memorial Hospital, where he was taken immediately after the accident.

Young Cooper was working in a large culvert which was being put in when he was caught in a cave-in of the walls, being covered underneath two tons of rock and dirt. He was taken out by workmen, and hurried to the Massie Memorial Hospital, where he died yesterday morning.

Young Cooper was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Cooper, formerly of Robertson county, the family moving to Bourbon county some months ago. He had been in the employ of the county for some time. Besides his parents, he is survived by one sister and five brothers.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon, with services conducted at the grave in the Paris Cemetery by Rev. C. H. Greer, pastor of the Paris Methodist church.

REAL ESTATE DEALS

At Lexington, Wednesday, the Department of Public Works granted a permit to Judge and Mrs. Harmon Stitt, formerly of Paris, to remodel their residence at 470 Rose street.

Many times Tanlac has done what was thought to be impossible. It's worth your trial. Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. (adv)

Charles Green, Barnett Winters, J. J. Veatch, Clyde Huffman, of the committee, or to Barnett Winters, of the Commercial Club, before the end of the week.

The itinerary of the trip is being worked out with the advice of Catesby Spears, chairman of the Bourbon County Road Commission, in an effort to route the boosters over as much of the good road as possible.

Owners of automobiles in Bourbon county and Paris are requested to volunteer the use of their cars for August 30, to chairman Wm. O. Hinton, of the Transportation Committee. A prompt offer of cars to Mr. Hinton will help to solve the matter of providing transportation.

FRES. PATTERSON, K. U. HEAD IS DEAD

Dr. James Kennedy Patterson, President Emeritus of the University of Kentucky, died at 4:10 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at his home on the University campus. He was in his ninetieth year.

Dr. Patterson was credited with being the dean of American college presidents in length of service as the head of one institution.

He became president of the University of Kentucky in 1869 and continued at the helm until 1910—through forty-one years of history-making achievements for the University.

While Dr. Patterson had been in feeble health for the past several years, he was as well as usual until Friday of last week, when he was taken seriously ill. He grew steadily worse until the end came Tuesday afternoon.

The immediate cause of his death was hardening of the arteries, an affliction which had been developing for the past several years, it was said. He was seriously ill last May and it was thought for a time that he would not recover, but he rallied from that illness.

Dr. Patterson was born in Glasgow, Scotland, on March 26, 1833, the eldest of six children of Andrew and Janet Kennedy Patterson, sturdy Scotch Presbyterians. His father was a calico printer by occupation.

In 1842 he came to America with his parents and settled in Bartholomew county, Ind., then a little more than a wilderness. The nearest school was at Madison, forty miles away, which he attended for two years and then, at the age of 17, he began upon his career as a teacher.

He was principal of the Greenville Presbyterian Academy, Muhlenburg county, Ky., from 1856-59, professor of Latin and Greek at Stewart College, now Southwestern University, Clarksville, Tenn., 1860-61; principal of the Transylvania high school, 1861-65, and from 1865-69 he was professor of Latin, civil history and metaphysics at Kentucky University, now Transylvania College.

In 1869 Dr. Patterson became president of the old Agricultural and Mechanical College, now the University of Kentucky, and served as the head of that institution longer than any man has ever held the presidential chair in any college or university in the United States. When he resigned in 1910, feeling that his active work was at an end, he was made president emeritus of the University.

Funeral services will be held at the residence this (Friday) afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The Rev. Edwin Muller, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Camden, S. C., and former pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Camden, S. C., and former pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Lexington, of which Dr. Patterson was a member, will come from Camden to officiate at the funeral service. Dr. Patterson's body will be laid to rest in a mausoleum in the Lexington Cemetery. The list of pall-bearers has not yet been announced, but it is expected that it will contain the names of prominent Kentuckians who were friends of Dr. Patterson.

DOG BITES BOY

Robert Cahal, son of Anderson Cahal, was severely bitten on the leg and face by a bull dog said to belong to a man named Lavin, residing on the Longo farm, near Paris. Young Cahal had gone to the farm early in the morning to assist Mr. Longo in gathering a crop of plums. The dog, which had previously been confined in the home during the day, in some way got loose, and rushing out, sank his teeth in young Cahal's leg and face.

Farm hands beat the dog off, and word was sent to Paris. Dr. A. H. Keller and Mr. Cahal came out and took the injured lad to Lexington, where a consultation was held with other physicians. It was decided to withhold treatment for a time, while the dog was being kept under surveillance.

ELECTION COMMISSIONERS TO MEET TO-MORROW

The State Election Commission met at Frankfort Tuesday, to name county election commissioners, but owing to incomplete lists recessed until Saturday morning, at which time the board will canvass the returns of the August primary. Dr. J. B. Stout, of Denville, Democrat, and J. M. Perkins, of Frankfort, Republican, the new members of the board, attended the meeting which was held in the office of Roy Speck, clerk of the Court of Appeals, who is ex-officio chairman of the board.

HARDMAN AND FOX HELD WITHOUT BAIL

The examining trial of Scobee Hardman, formerly of Austerlitz, this county, charged with the murder of Leon Renaker, in Winchester, several weeks ago, was held in Winchester, Wednesday. The defense offered no testimony. After the prosecution had closed the case for the Commonwealth Judge J. Smith Hayes, attorney for the defense, spoke briefly, stating that most of the testimony that had been offered in the hearing was merely gossip, and that no real evidence had been produced that would incriminate Hardman. At the conclusion of the trial Judge H. C. Scrivener held Hardman to the September grand jury without bail.

The arrest of Reese Fox, who is alleged to have been Hardman's companion on the night of the murder, was another phase of the matter that developed. Reese Fox was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Walter Renaker, brother of the murdered man, after Hardin Smith, a ferryman, testified that was one of the two men, his belief being that Fox was the other, who had crossed the river at Boonesboro on his ferry the night of the murder. Fox was also held without bail to the September grand jury.

Emory Kimbell, of Bourbon county, brother of Hardman's divorced wife, stated that he had been with Mrs. Douglas and that Hardman had been with Mrs. Renaker in the Austerlitz neighborhood about a year ago. Kimbell stated that Hardman had remarked to him on one occasion that to kill a man was nothing. He declared that Hardman had said it would be easy to rob the bank at Clintonville, and that a man was a fool to work. Kimbell also testified that Hardman told him that he liked Mrs. Renaker, but did not have any use for Mr. Renaker, and he did not see how he was going to get around it.

Dan Smith and Mr. Haley, of Bourbon, testified that they had seen Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Renaker, Hardman and Kimbell together on a road near Austerlitz, within the last year.

Judge Scobee on Wednesday night issued an order that no one but members of his family and attorneys might see Fox except in company with Jailer Carroll Azbill.

The order was issued as a result of a reputed communication between Hardman and Fox, through an alleged "industrious friend," who is claimed to have visited the cells of each several times in the late afternoon and night Wednesday. Fox proclaims his innocence.

WHITE FRONT GARAGE CHANGES OWNERSHIP

By a deal recently completed Owen Gibson, who has been operating the High Street Motor Co., in this city, for the past year, has purchased the stock and equipment of the White Front Garage, on Main street, and will take possession about the first of September.

Mr. Gibson contemplates making extensive improvements. A new front will be put in, and an attractive show room for display purposes will be added. Mr. Gibson will combine the stock of the High Street Motor Co., with that of the White Front Garage, and the business will in the future be conducted under the firm name of The Gibson Garage.

PARIS WOMAN ACTS AS GOOD SAMARITAN

Mrs. Allison Holland, of Lexington, who went for a trip to Europe with the Monroe party, suffered an accident about three weeks ago at Munich and was compelled to remain at the hospital there. The party had gone to Munich, after seeing the Passion Play at Oberammergau, and while hurrying to catch a car Mrs. Holland fell on the street, fracturing her leg. She was taken to a hospital and Miss Josephine Hayden, of Paris, remained in Munich with her, the rest of the party having to continue on their travels according to the schedule.

Mrs. Holland is getting along most favorably, as reported by letters received by Mr. Holland, and he cabled her on Wednesday to go on with her trip when able to travel and tour Italy and France as at first planned.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

In the County Court the last will and testament of James B. Stivers, deceased, for many years engaged in the lumber business in Paris, was admitted to probate. The instrument, which bore date of March 22, 1921, was witnessed by Buckner Woodford and Bernard J. Santen.

By terms of his will Mr. Stivers disposed of an estate valued at between $35,000 and $40,000. The sum of $1,000 each is left to his sisters, Mrs. A. L. Burley and Mrs. Lillie S. Keal, both of Paris. The remainder of his estate was bequeathed to his widow, Mrs. Margaret C. Stivers.

Mrs. Stivers was named as executrix. The testator asked that the Court require no bond or inventory of the estate. Mrs. Stivers accepted the trust and qualified as executrix.

In the County Court, Judge Batteredton heard the case of Robert Harney, one of the striking railroad shopmen, charged with drawing a knife on Carney Kenton, strike-breaker, Sunday night during an argument on Twentieth street. After hearing the testimony, Judge Batteredton assessed a fine of $20 and costs against Harney, on charges of breach of peace and using insulting language. Kenton was also placed under arrest at the same time, on the charge of having in his possession a concealed deadly weapon, a pistol, which he was alleged to have drawn on Harney after the latter had drawn a knife. Kenton was held to the grand jury at the next term of the Bourbon Circuit Court, in the sum of $100.

In the Police Court Dr. J. S. Wallingford, Paris physician, was presented on a charge of breach of the peace, and was fined $15 and costs, and a jail sentence of thirty days. The jail sentence was ordered suspended conditional upon a promise of good behavior in the future. Dr. Wallingford was charged with having abused and mistreated his wife. He was placed under arrest by Chief of Police Link and Patrolmen Hill and Judy, Monday night, and placed in the Paris jail, from where he was released at midnight on bond signed by friends.

The examining trial of Wm. Whaley, charged with malicious cutting, was held before County Judge Geo. Batteredton, in the County Court Tuesday afternoon, and resulted in the case being dismissed. In a dispute at the First National Bank Monday between Whaley and Wm. Scott,

THE PRESBYTERIAN EDUCATIONAL MOVEMENT

Statewide support in the Presbyterian movement for Christian education is promised not only by the 35,000 Presbyterians of Kentucky, but by many friends of the different institutions to benefit by this movement, according to announcement received here from S. W. McGill, director of the work. "We find," said Mr. McGill, "that there are many, not even members of our church, who are vitally interested in Christian education and want to see our movement succeed. In addition there are many former students of Centre and Kentucky College for Women scattered throughout the State who have written us for something to do to help. This is especially true of the Centre men who have learned that in addition to the $300,000 to be given them out of the $1,000,000 to be raised, the General Education Board of New York has promised $200,000, provided the $1,000,000 is given by the end of the year. That, of course, means a great deal to that institution."

Some interesting statistics have been prepared showing the strength of Presbyterianism in Kentucky. There are 20,207 members of the Southern church and 14,315 members of the Northern branch, making a total of about 34,000. There are 192 ministers, 1,281 elders, 1,142 deacons, and 299 churches in the State. Both branches of the church are united in the present campaign under the control of a united commission.

WELL DRILLER

W. K. Kearney, well driller, Versailles, Ky. Phone 80. (tf)

bank janitor, Whaley cut Scott twice. At the trial Tuesday afternoon Whaley testified that Scott had made a motion as if to strike him, and that he had acted in self-defense.

The last will and testament of the late George Broderick, who died recently in Paris, was filed for record Tuesday in the County Clerk's office. Mr. Broderick's estate, valued at over $25,000, is left to his widow, Mrs. Mary F. Broderick, who was named as executrix. Mrs. Broderick accepted the trust and qualified for the position.
